Everybody Knows

that we carry the very

Latest and Best

of everything in the Dry Goods line, and that we carry no shoddy trash to work off on the public in "Special Sales," or other fakes to mislead the people.

We have the handsomest stocks of goods in Central Kentucky, and sell goods at Live and Let Live Prices.

The Joseph Mercantile COMPANY.

OUR Fall and Winter Stock

is now complete in every department.

We can show you the largest and best selected lines of

Clothing, Shoes, Hats, Furnishing Goods

ever displayed in Lancaster.

We buy all our goods direct from the manufactures. We bought our goods very early before the heavy advance in prices, therefore we can save you money. A look will convince you that you can buy of us

Better Shoes,

Better Clothing,

Better Hats and

Better Furnishing Goods

at less price than any house in Lancaster.

H. T. Logan.

First ice Saturday night.

Eight coons in the chain gang.

Two weeks 'til Thanksgiving.

Houses are in great demand.

Hor rig killing time close at hand.

Get to figuring on your Xmas presents.

The turkey crop is not so short, after all.

The town clock is worn out and unreliable.

Lots of vacant houses on the Chute. Alas, too bad.

Cooks are scarce, and some of them as mean as the devil.

The chain gang cleaned up the Park Saturday, a much needed job.

The quail crop is short. Many were slaughtered before the law was out.

Dr. Blaney, of Frankfort, preached at the Presbyterian church Sunday.

There is much typhoid fever in the county. The long drouth has caused a great deal of sickness.

For the first time in its history, the Public Square was swept Monday, every particle of dirt being removed. Good.

Some pretty flowers are being grown at the Lancaster green houses. Mr. Christman is an expert florist and has everything right up to date.

Our good friend, Henry Burdett sent The Record a tremendous 'possum and a sack of sweet potatoes. Now make you think we didn't live while they lasted.

The Record's faithful engineer, Carey Mullins, has moved to Lexington, where he is running an eating house. He ran the engine in this office for fifteen years, and we have never had a more honest or faithful employee.

Some more coons were caught in devilment Saturday night, and Judge Armstrong dosed out justice with a liberal hand Monday morning. Verily the way of the transgressor is hard in Lancaster.

Big Fire Near Town.

Monday afternoon, the slaughter pens of Mr. T. S. Elkin, on the new Danville pike, caught fire, and before the flames were extinguished they had burned the pens and destroyed the stable, coal house and other property making a heavy loss for the clever gentleman. It was with the greatest difficulty that the residence was saved, as the property is outside the town limits and could not be reached by the fire hose. Some hogs, hides, tallow and other property were consumed, making the loss reach about $600 with only $300 insurance.

Buried in Lancaster.

The remains of Milt Estes, who was killed by young Kennedy, at Crab Orchard last week, were interred in the Lancaster Cemetery Thursday. The Odd Fellows, of which he was an enthusiastic member, had charge of the burial. Many of the local members joined with the Crab Orchard lodge in paying the last sad tribute to the deceased. Mr. Estes was a hard-working man, and had many friends who deeply deplore his death. As the Lincoln county jury is in session, Mr. Kennedy's case will likely be looked into by that body and an indictment returned in a few days.

Peculiar Experience.

The other day, Mr. Jas. Hill, who lives on Water street, was setting out raspberry bushes, the end of a row coming near an old well. He dug the last hole, poured in some water, placed the plant and was tampering with his foot when the earth gave way in a space about two feet across and Mr. Hill fell into the hole until he reached shoulder depth, his arms being outstretched. This checked his course until assistance arrived. It proved that a stream of water, emptying into the well, ran directly under the spot where Mr. Hill was working, and had gradually washed away the dirt thereunder. Had his arms failed to check him, he would have been killed, as the hole was many feet over his head. It is safe to say that if any raspberries, or anything else, grow in that vicinity, someone beside Mr. Hill will have to plant them.

Let Him Move On.

Occasionally one will hear the remark, "I wish I was out of this town," and then one feels like saying, "I wish you were," for the man who stands on the street corners chewing and spitting, telling obscene stories, cursing the town, finding fault with his grand mother because she was a woman, claiming the merchants are a lot of thieves, that the lawyers and newspaper men would skin a man to a flint, and a whole lot more, is a nuisance and an abomination. Anyone pestered with one or more such worthies would be justified in exercising cowhide authority on the bosom of their pants. No one is obliged to live where he is not suited. If one hasn't an encouraging word for the business enterprise and institutions of his town he should shut up and "go way back and sit down." If things don't suit you, move on to where they will. A growler and sorehead in a town is an enterprise killer every time.

Mr. Oscar Parks, son-in-law of Mrs. E. Brown, of this city, died at his home in Middlesboro last week, and was buried in the Richmond cemetery.

Advertising Sale Continues.

The Ladies Aid Society will continue the Advertising Sale, at E. W. Harris' store, next Saturday. Some fine articles for sale cheap. Cakes, salads, etc., for sale.

U. D. C. Officers.

The U. D. C. held their regular meeting last Friday with Mrs. Mattie Frisbie. The following new officers were: Mrs. J. A. Royston, president; Mrs. Alex. Doty, vice president; Mrs. Fannie Farra, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Mattie Frisbie, treasurer; Mrs. B. F. Hudson, historian; Miss Mary Doty, recording secretary.

Will Build a Beauty.

Haselden Bros. are receiving the material for the handsome new store room they will build in connection with their present house. It will be of pressed, colored brick, of pretty design and up-to-date in every respect. The new building will be thrown together with the present one, and, as stated in recent issue of The Record, the Messrs. Haselden will add a wholesale department to their business. They are hustlers, and that they will meet with the greatest success there is no the slightest doubt. Such hustlers are the kind who build up a town. Pity that more Lancaster people do not invest their money at home.

Fine Enterprise.

Lancaster has one of the best florists in the state in Mr. John Christman, who has erected large, up to date green houses on Richmond street, near the rail road crossing. He has quite a number of growing flowers, and many potted plants which he sells at the very lowest prices. He is storing a great many flowers for the people, which is a great convenience for them. He has the houses in perfect running order now, and invites the public to call and see them. This is an enterprise long needed in Lancaster, and the people should show their appreciation by giving Mr. Christman their patronage. He is prepared to furnish designs of all kinds on shortest notice.

A Loss to Lancaster.

It is with great regret that The Record announces the determination of Dr. G. Chris Faris to leave Lancaster and locate in the West. For some time Dr. Faris has been in poor health, his physicians have advised a change of climate. He will leave in a few weeks for Arizona, and will give up the practice of his profession for a year. Dr. Faris located in Lancaster several years ago, and has established a lucrative practice. He is one of the best dentists in the state, a fine gentleman and a good citizen in every way. He has a legion of friends here who trust that he will soon recover his health and return to Lancaster. He had commenced building a cozy residence on Richmond street which he will complete and either sell or rent before leaving.

Bonds Fail To Carry.

The official count showed that the proposition to put the court house in decent shape had failed to pass, and the chances are the old hull will be allowed to rot down, or kill someone and the taxpayers be made to pay many thousand dollars in damages. While the building is all right from outside appearances, yet the interior is in a dilapidated and unsafe condition. Had those who voted against the proposition gone through the building, examined the dangerous cupola and the unsafe vaults, we are satisfied the bonds would have carried by an overwhelming majority. However, we have a fiscal court composed of gentlemen who will do all in their power to remedy the trouble, and they can be counted upon to do the right thing every time, so if there is any way possible by which the house can be patched, they will see that it is done. Those familiar with the unsafe and unhealthy condition of the building regret very much that the vote was against making a first-class building.

The Turkey Crop.

The Lexington Leader says: "According to advices received by local poultry dealers, the crop of turkeys this year will be a very large one. Dealers are now receiving turkeys weighing from twelve to fifteen pounds apiece as compared with turkeys weighing seven to ten pounds last year. Eastern speculators who played havoc with the market last year were taught a severe lesson, and they will keep their hands off this season. Last year these interests secured options on the bulk of the turkey crop in October for delivery during November and December. Realizing that they would not receive the exorbitant price they had looked for, they failed to take up their options. As a result the farmers were left with a big supply of turkeys on hand, which they were compelled to sell at very low figures. This year, however, the farmers are pledged to sell direct to the consumers, and take the open market price. Present prices of fourteen cents a pound on foot and twenty cents dressed will probably prevail during the Thanksgiving holidays. Other poultry will also be plentiful. Geese have already made their appearance, and heavy receipts are looked for later. Old hens and spring chickens are in liberal supply, and prices are reasonable."

Go to the court house tonight (Friday) and hear the Armenian tell of the great massacre of his people. He was there.

Rev. C. H. Garrison, pastor of the Danville Christian church, was taken suddenly ill, suffering from hemorrhages of the lungs, and has been forced to take an indefinite leave from his church.

Eld. F. M. Tindler's subject for next Sunday morning will be Kentucky Missions. At night he will speak upon one of the greatest curses of the day—gambling. Evening service begins at 7:15.

Prof. Mannix was called to Charlestown, Indiana, Wednesday, by the death of his brother. He will return in a few days to resume his duties at the Graded school. During his absence, Rev. C. S. Ellis is conducting the school in the most satisfactory manner.

Nonny Karagiozean.

The Armenian, will lecture at the court house Friday evening, the 16th, at 7:30 p. m. for the benefit of the Ladies Aid Society of the Christian church. Come hear a lecture filled with both pathos and fun.

Fine Lecturer To Return.

Those who heard M. J. Fanning, the great Irish temperance lecturer on his recent visit to Lancaster will be delighted to know that he will come again on Tuesday, the 27th, and deliver another lecture in the Presbyterian church that night. He will be greeted by a large audience, as he is one of the best in the country, and you should not fail to hear him. He steers wide of old cut-and-dried lecture, and you are interested from start to finish. 2c

The Burley Growers.

C. M. Hanna, Manager of the Burley Tobacco Society, has established his office in Winchester, Ky., and is prepared to send out to county and precinct managers constitutions and by-laws of the Society, and also pledges. All interested in the movement who desire this material or any information, will apply to him to Winchester, Ky.

Thanksgiving Exchange.
